

Mentor for Online Faculty

- › Mentors can help interested faculty get the training, resources, and support they need to create and teach a quality online course.
- › Mentoring supplements our campus Instructional Technology program of one-on-one training and group workshops.
- › Mentors can review professional development options with faculty and guide them through the process of obtaining training.
- › Mentors can coach instructors through online course development and teaching; they provide example courses, discuss techniques, address subject-specific issues, and individual needs.
- › Mentors are available for rapid response to answer questions and can refer faculty to a collection of resources and campus experts.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Susan Schauer: sschauer@unm.edu

Find out More at: <http://tinyurl.com/unmla-mentor>

 UNM LOS ALAMOS | eLearning Committee

4000 University Drive, Los Alamos, New Mexico, 87544
losalamos.unm.edu

